

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

A literal English translation of the filed specification is provided herewith as part of the missing parts.

A marked-up specification of the literal English translation has been provided herewith to put the specification in a form which is in accordance with USPTO guidelines, along with a clean version of the marked-up specification which serves herein as a substitute specification.

Paragraph numbering and headings have been added to the literal English translation, as seen in the substitute specification, which serves as the basis from which all amendments are made. No new matter is added in doing this. The headings have been inserted as follows:

“Technical Field” between the title and [0001]

“Background of the Invention” between [0001] and [0002];

“Brief Summary of the Invention” between [0004] and [0005];

“Brief Description of Several Views of the Drawings” between [0007] and [0008]; and “Detailed Description of the Invention” between [0014] and [0015].

The substitute specification is provided herewith with the abstract being the final page of the substitute specification.